FEEDBACK

"It's Sunday morning and I don't feel like getting up" – This is what most of the students think and I am no different. But something struck me that morning and I woke up straight out of bed. I was to participate in the beach cleanup drive as part of an SRISTI-Club engagement activity organized Club in-charge. By the end of it, we were all satisfied that we could contribute towards the environment and thankful to the foundation for providing such opportunities on a regular basis".

By: Sneha U B, 4st year CSE

"It was overwhelming experience for the 40 of us to partake in the drive with so many like minded students. It was a great opportunity to interact with all of them and work as a cohesive unit during the activity. We were allotted an area on the beach for cleanup and were provided gloves and other accessories for the activity. Our task was to dig into the sand and collect the plastic in a bag post removal of sand".

"By the end of it, we were all satisfied that we could contribute towards the environment and thankful to the foundation for providing such opportunities on a regular basis. The participation of senior management acted as a huge motivation factor for all of us".
