Anti Ragging Program Details

ANTI RAGGING AWARENESS PROGRAMME

Alva's Institute of Engineering and Technology (AIET) firmly adheres to its commitment to providing a RAGGING-FREE ACADEMIC ENVIRONMENT. Ensuring the safety and well-being of its students, the institute has established a framework of measures designed to prevent ragging and support victims. This report elaborates on the practices, measures, and support mechanisms installed at AIET to deter and manage ragging incidents.

Introduction

Ragging, an abusive and demeaning practice, targeting newcomers in educational environments, has been responsible for both mental and physical distress to countless students. Fully aware of its negative implications on a student's life and academic trajectory, AIET has implemented proactive measures to mitigate and prevent it, ensuring the rights and mental health of its students remain safeguarded.

With the following objectives, an awareness programme was organised for the students of AIET by Dr. Dattathreya, Dean planning, Head Anti Ragging Cell on 28/09/2022. During the session, the operating mechanism of the cell was also narrated.

Also he explained about Reporting and Action Mechanisms of anti ragging cell at AIET

The establishment of the Anti-Ragging Cell at AIET was with a distinct set of objectives:

1. Awareness & Education: To educate and sensitize students about the detrimental effects of ragging, promoting a culture of mutual respect.
2. Prevention & Monitoring: To actively monitor campus activities, ensuring the prevention of ragging incidents.
3. Support & Redressal: To provide immediate support to victims, ensuring a swift response to reported incidents and appropriate actions against perpetrators.
4. Collaboration & Networking: To collaborate with external organizations and authorities, ensuring a holistic approach towards the eradication of ragging.

Anti-Ragging Measures at AIET

1. Leadership: At the forefront of the anti-ragging initiatives is AIET's Anti-Ragging Cell, meticulously overseen by Dr. Dattathreya. This cell is tasked with implementing anti-ragging activities, ensuring compliance, and promptly addressing any reported ragging episodes.
2. Awareness Programs: Periodic talks and programs are organized to impart knowledge about the ramifications of ragging. These efforts aim to foster camaraderie amongst students.
3. In-house Counselling : Recognizing the potential psychological scars ragging can inflict, AIET provides in-house counselling services. This safe space allows students to openly discuss their experiences and receive the support they need.
4. Student Support: AIET staunchly supports students who fall victim to ragging. This unwavering stance ensures that they find a sanctuary in their academic environment.
5. Collaboration with External Organizations: For victims facing long-term psychological consequences, such as PTSD, AIET collaborates with external organizations to offer specialized aid. This ensures students receive all-rounded care.

Reporting and Action Mechanisms

1. Anonymous Reporting: An anonymous reporting system emboldens students to report incidents without fear of backlash.
2. Prompt Action: The Anti-Ragging Cell ensures that each report receives a thorough investigation and that swift actions are taken against culprits.
3. Regular Monitoring: The institute has equipped sensitive areas with surveillance tools like CCTV cameras. Random checks and patrols further deter potential ragging activities.

Dr. Dattathreya was concluded the session by providing the information about unwavering dedication of Alva's Institute of Engineering and Technology towards eradicating ragging is evident in its policies and student support structures.

The institute's holistic approach ensures students enjoy a conducive, safe, and welcoming learning environment. Upholding this ragging-free vision requires the collective effort of the institute, its students, faculty, and parents.
