2.2.1 The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners.

Considering diversified socio-economical, cultural, regional backgrounds of the students, Institute takes an initiative to group students based on their learning abilities. The Institute groups the students in to 2 categories such as

- Advanced Learners
- Slow learners.

Criteria for Categorization

- For the first year (I-II semester) students, performance of the student in qualifying examination, i.e. Second year Pre university examination are considered for categorizing them as Advanced Learners and Slow Learners.
- In case of students in III-VIII semesters, their performance in the Semester End Examination (SEE) becomes a benchmark to categorize them as advanced and slow learners.

Advance learners generally take up leadership role such as Class representative, Forum Coordinator, Project team leaders, NCC coordinator, NSS coordinators. Slow learners are taken care by supporting their academic activities through crash courses in first year, coaching classes and they are inducted as group members of Forum, NCC, NSS, EDC and project members.
