Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alvas Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using preset parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

1.0 Student Feedback Form

The IQAC creates a feedback form, which is distributed to all departments for response collection w.r.t curriculum. Following is the sample feedback form of students.

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students during AY 2023-24. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 58 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus. Various industry oriented certification course and industry visit have implemented in department to satisfy the needs of students. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

92.7% percent of students judged the curriculum to be very effective in improving teamwork, developing analytical abilities, and encouraging constructive learning, while 7.3% of students anticipate curriculum improvement and speedy resolution.

Comments:

- Provide industrial training course on rice milling
- More books in library on latest technology in precision agriculture needs to be brought.
- Content in the syllabus are relevant to course.
- Certification course on industry oriented tools and fundamental of agriculture related course need to be implemented.

2.1 Feedback Analysis Report

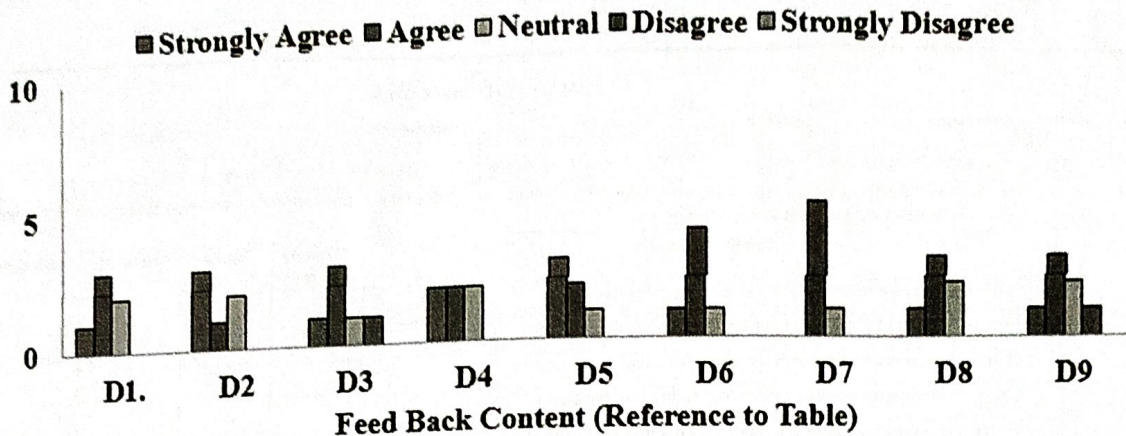

An effort was made to receive feedback from all department faculties of the college during 2023-24. For this purpose, feedback form had been prepared and taken feedback. As many as 06 responses have been collected from the faculties on curriculum. In order to arrive to comprehensive results, various social awareness programmes through NSS, to be implemented in the department. Making students to participate in learning process various quizzes and seminars have been implemented. For the effective presentation of the data, various types of graphs have been used.

97% faculties found curriculum to be very effective in enhancing team work, developing analytical skills and constructive learning and 3 % faculties are expecting improvement in curriculum and resolving it timely.

FACULTY FEEDBACK (2023-24)

Comments:

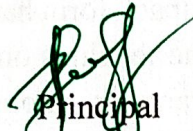

- Curriculum is on par with industrial requirements but need to includes some recent advancement of agriculture engineering
- Include credits for tutorials related numerical based subjects in curriculum
- Include Micro projects at the 2nd year syllabus itself to make students to understand research knowledge.

STUDENT FEEDBACK (2023-24)

Comments:

- Three month of long internship to be provided.
- Technical Talk related to Professional financing to be given
- Primavera certification course to be provided
- Provide training course on GIS
- Project work should be started in six semesters itself.

Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alvas Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using preset parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

For the session 2023-24, the analysis of stakeholder's feedback is presented as under:

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 186 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus. To achieve complete findings, important statistical methods such as percentages, etc., were employed. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

100 percent of students judged the curriculum to be very helpful in improving teamwork, developing analytical abilities, and encouraging constructive learning, while 0.0 percent of students anticipate curriculum improvement and speedy resolution..

Comments

- Syllabuses have to revise based on the new trends and technology.
- Make mini project mandatory to all students and implement the research activities knowledge

Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alva's Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using present parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

1.0 Student Feedback Form

The IQAC creates a feedback form, which is distributed to all departments for response collection w.r.t curriculum. Following is the sample feedback form of students.

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students during AY 2023-24. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 380 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus. Various industry oriented certification course and industry visit have implemented in department to satisfy the needs of students. Letter has been communicated to university requesting them to include Human values in the curriculum. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

93.6% percent of students judged the curriculum to be very helpful in improving teamwork, developing analytical abilities, and encouraging constructive learning, while 6.4% of students anticipate curriculum improvement and speedy resolution.

2.1 Feedback Analysis Report

An effort was made to receive feedback from all department faculties of the college during 2023-24. For this purpose, feedback form had been prepared and taken feedback. As many as 30 responses have been collected from the faculties on curriculum. Making students to participate in learning process various coding assignments, self study topics given seminars have been implemented. Many students have taken certification course and NPTEL courses. For the effective presentation of the data, various types of graphs have been used.

92% faculties found curriculum to be very effective in enhancing team work, developing analytical skills and constructive learning and 8% faculties are expecting improvement in curriculum and resolving it timely

Comments

- More Workshops need to be conducted
- Soft Skill development activities need to be conducted according to the industry needs.
- Self-study topics and coding assignments need to be given.
- Include Mini projects at the 2nd year syllabus itself to make students to get coding knowledge.
- NPTEL certification and recent certification courses on recent technologies need to be done by the students

3. Alumna Feedback

The IQAC creates a feedback form, which is distributed to all departments for response collection.

3.1 Alumni Feedback form on curriculum

In order to improve the effectiveness of the designed syllabus and to meet the needs of the contemporary advancements in the field of engineering, the curriculum feedback from our beloved alumnus were collected and analysed.

3.2 Feedback Analysis report

Feedback from alumnus was collected from those who visited the college during AY 2023-24. For this purpose, feedback form was prepared and taken feedback. Around 68 Alumni's visited college and responses have been collected from the Alumni on syllabus. In order to arrive to comprehensive results, various activities like industry visit, certification course and social awareness programmes have been done in the department. For the effective presentation of the data, various types of graphs have been used. 91% students found curriculum to be very effective in enhancing team work, developing analytical skills and constructive learning and 9% students are expecting improvement in curriculum and resolving it timely

Comments

- The curriculum needs to include industry oriented new tools and technology
- More career Awareness Program and placement oriented training to be given to students.
- More Electives options should be provided in syllabus.
- Curriculum should ensuring professional ethics and positive attitude among the students

4. Employer Feedback

The IQAC creates a feedback form, which is distributed to various Employer who visit our institution for placement purpose and response is collected from them on curriculum. Following is the sample form of it.

4.2 Feedback Analysis Report

An effort was made to receive feedback from employers, those who visit of the college for placement, workshop technical talks...etc during AY 2023-24. For this purpose, feedback form had been prepared and taken feedback. Around 27 employer visited college and responses have been collected from them on curriculum. In order to arrive to comprehensive results, the comments of employer have been analysed and various activities have been implemented in department. Also Human values activities soft skills have been done in department. Aptitude was given to the students For the effective presentation of the data, various types of graphs have been used 87 % Employers are Satisfied with the process of Curriculum design and development. Employers opined that AIET's Curriculum is effective in developing ICT & communication skills and Curriculum has relevance to real life situations; reflects current trends and practices in the respective disciplines. 13% employers denied and suggested to improve the curriculum as per the industrial standards.

Comments:

- Miniprojects need to be introduced in the 2nd year itself.

- Curriculum has be relevance to the industrial needs
- Curriculum should ensuring professional ethics and positive attitude among the students
- The inclination of the curriculum to adopt new methods and technology
- Provide the knowledge and skills demanded by the contemporary labour market
- Introduce new programming languages in 2nd year to enhance their knowledge.
- Needs to improve their innovative thinking and human values.

Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alvas Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using preset parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 312 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus of overall strength. To achieve complete findings, important statistical methods such as percentages, etc., were employed. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

93.3% students found curriculum to be very effective in enhancing team work, developing analytical skills and constructive learning and 6.7 % students are expecting improvement in curriculum and resolving it timely.

Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alvas Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using preset parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

Education is fundamental for achieving full human potential, developing an equitable and just society, and promoting national development. Providing universal access to quality education is the key to India's continued ascent, and leadership on the global stage in terms of economic growth, social justice and equality, scientific advancement, national integration, and cultural preservation. Universal high-quality education is the best way forward for developing and maximizing our country's rich talents and resources for the good of the individual, the society, the country, and the world. India will have the highest population of young people in the world over the next decade, and our ability to provide high-quality educational opportunities to them will determine the future of our country (NEP 2020). Basic education is not sufficient or complete, and therefore should be considered only as a basis for learning that needs to be used all lifelong. Lifelong learning for all has become one of the pillars of development. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. Because quality is a metric for success, there is always room for improvement in every system.

Alva's Institute of Engineering and Technology, Mijar, being unique from its very inception and foundation, has emerged as a benchmark of excellence and innovation for the world of education. With quality sustenance as its focus, the IQAC of the college has developed the feedback mechanism commencing with obtaining feedback from the various stakeholders through a structured rating based feedback form. The college draws feedback from students, teachers, alumnae and employers from respective department for continuous improvement in curriculum development and enrichment.

Feedback is gathered from all stakeholders in our Institute through an offline approach. Following the collection of data from stakeholders, the response sheet is prepared and analysed using preset parameters. Departments take necessary action based on the report. The department sends a copy of the report, together with the action performed, to the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for any additional action that is necessary.

The primary goal of this feedback is to guarantee that every student has access to competent and high-quality instruction, which leads to vigorous academic, social, and personal development. The IQAC analyses the activities as well as other quality efforts on a regular basis. We must consistently adopt such Quality Initiatives into our processes and adhere to them in letter and spirit in order to satisfy stakeholders.

For the session 2023 -24, the analysis of stakeholder's feedback is presented as under:

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. Responses have been gathered from a sample of students on the Syllabus. To achieve complete findings, important statistical methods such as percentages, etc., were employed. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

95% students found the curriculum to be very relevant to the course and 100% of the students opined that the syllabus is updated based on need and is career oriented. 95% of the students opined that the syllabus has good balance between theory and application and that the course increased the knowledge and perspective in the subject area

Quality vs. quantity has long been a debate topic. Students, as crucial stakeholders, are concerned about the predicted consequences. As the technical education scenario shifts from an output-based to an outcome-based one, quality in such procedures must be addressed. We must guarantee that the result parameters are mapped in relation to the objectives and that the programmes are aligned with national policies in light of the global trend. Stakeholder satisfaction, including students, professors, alumni, and employers, has always been a struggle. For the session 2023-24, the analysis of stakeholder's feedback is presented as under:

1.2 Feedback Analysis report

An attempt was made to solicit opinions from all college students. A feedback form had been produced for this purpose, and comments from the students had been solicited. A total of 186 responses have been gathered from students on the Syllabus. To achieve complete findings, important statistical methods such as percentages, etc., were employed. Various sorts of graphs have been utilised to effectively portray the facts.

100 percent of students judged the curriculum to be very helpful in improving teamwork, developing analytical abilities, and encouraging constructive learning, while 0.0 percent of students anticipate curriculum improvement and speedy resolution..
