ABSTRACT

The day we are developing an embedded system device of hardware parts which can be used to avoid and to restrict the smuggling of sandal wood trees from the smuggler's. So that from the beginning we observed that in the newspapers with an headlines of about smuggling of the trees like Red sandal wood(sagwan) . The trees which was stolen by the smuggler's were very costly and by the way their were less available in the world. So that such trees are used for medical sciences as well as cosmetics for that reason the scandal wood trees may costs high in the world. Where the huge amount of money was involved in selling of Red scandal woods lots of incidents were happening by cutting the trees and stolen by the smuggler's in the forest areas. So that to avoid and to restrict such smuggling of trees and to save the forests and not to prevent the deforestation around the globe for some preventive measures to be like global warming need to be deployed.
