

Report on workshop is “Ease of Doing Business in India and Karnataka”.

The title of the workshop is “Ease of Doing Business in India and Karnataka”. Today in most of the management departments teaching method is restricted to teaching managerial skills sets to manage the business shows more profitable and ethical. But the important factors like starting a business, nurturing the business, business plans, business Ideas , Incubation Centers, and entrepreneurship mindsets are restricted to famous business schools (relatively). Today there is a need to inculcate these skills sets in the minds of the students even in the Management or Business administration Departments like us as this takes the students imaginations and efforts into new possibilities. In this backdrop it would be worth to attend this workshop to know the most important part of Business and Entrepreneurial skills set i.e EASE OF DOING BUSINESS. As the word EASE in Indian context says, in India it is not that much easy to start a business like in Developed countries. So it is required to know where we stand?. The knowledge on these aspects definitely appreciated by the student's community and would help to influence student's mindset in right directions. This would also act as a FDP program as this knowledge empowers faculty to create an impact in their career too.
