About FDP

The Artificial Intelligence market is expected to reach USD 35,870.0 million by 2025 from its direct revenue sources, growing at a CAGR of 57.2% from 2017 to 2025. Gartner predicts that by 2021, Artificial Intelligence will be one among the top five investment priority for more than 30 percent of CIOs and is going to be a critical driver for demand, fraud and failure predictions by 2020. Growth in the AI market can largely be attributed to factors such as growing big data and its adoption for improving consumer services and their satisfaction. Creating an intelligent software for such key applications involves simulating reasoning, learning and problem-solving most of which can be addressed with AI. This workshop will outline the latest AI trends with regard to technology, use cases and the various business verticals which will be covered on the first half of the day. The second half of the day will be an introduction to the AI framework called the Scikit-Learn and implementing a Machine Learning model using Python programming language in Anaconda IDE.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The FDP is open for the participants from academia and industry. The selected participants will be informed of their selection by e-mail.

Report on “Artificial Intelligence”

AIET has taken a measure to develop the knowledge of faculties by conducting online five days FDP on “Artificial Intelligence” in association with National Youth Council of India, Computer Society of India, and Bangalore & Brainovision Solutions (Ind) Pvt. Ltd Hyderabad. The schedule is as shown in the image. The session was broadcast in youtube channel.

Dates	Topics
22-5-2020 5PM – 6PM	AI - Introduction , Machine learning , Deep learning , Daily use of DS, ML algorithm
23-5-2020 5PM – 6PM	Discussing how computing systems take decisions with minimal human intervention. How AI systems change behaviors without being explicitly programmed. The key AI technologies that will gain the most market traction
24-5-2020 5PM – 6PM	Discussing the major drivers for the growth of AI in verticals such as automotive, finance and advertisement..
25-5-2020 5PM – 6PM	The different methodologies such as Supervised and Unsupervised learning algorithms that are detrimental to make AI models
26-5-2020 5PM – 6PM	Introducing an AI framework called the Scikit-Learn and implementing a program in Python for Scikit-Learn in Anaconda IDE

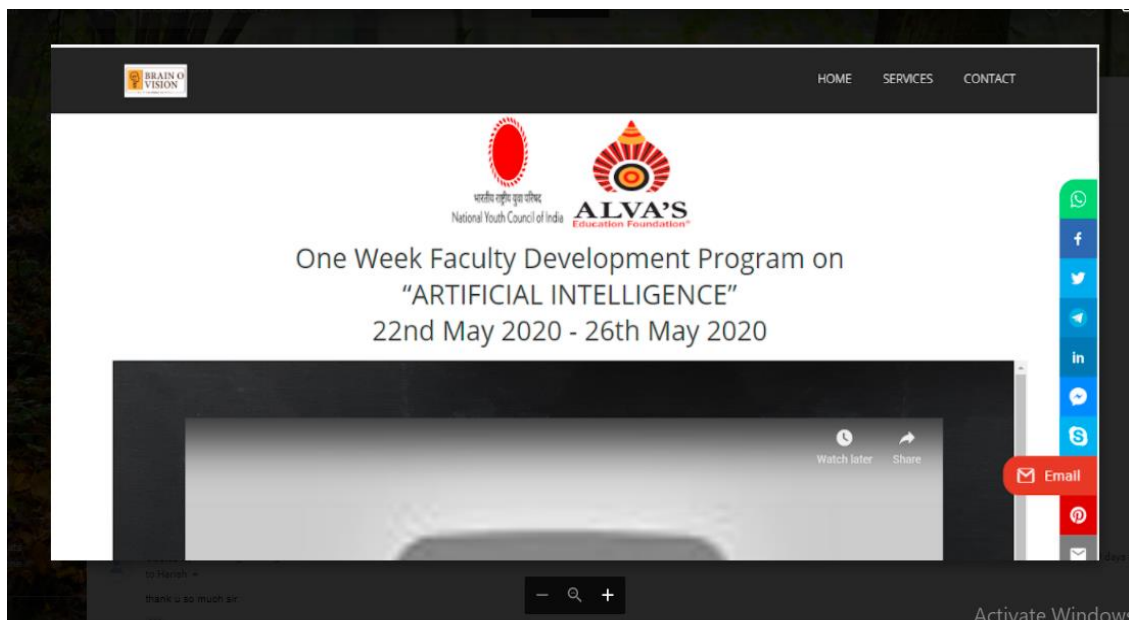

On 22-5-2020, the event started with a welcome speech done by Mr. Ganesh Nag, CEO, Brainovision. The resource person Mr. Mehdi co- founder of brainovision gave introduction of artificial intelligence, Machine Learning concepts and Deep Learning and also explained the where we find these applications and algorithm used in our daily life. Mr. Mehdi explained various algorithms used in Deep learning and its applications very well.

On 23-5-2020 Dr. Sri Ganesh research scientist at university of Heidelberg Germany and professor at SRH University, gave an insight on how Artificial intelligence researchers are employing machine learning algorithms to aid tasks as diverse as driving cars, diagnosing medical conditions, and screening job candidates. Sir also mentioned how these applications raise a number of complex new social and ethical issues.

On 24-5-2020 Mr. Mehdi discussed three essential facets accelerating the rate of innovation within the area of Machine Learning and Artificial Intelligence.

1. Advanced computing architecture. Conventional microprocessors and CPUs aren't meant to take care of Machine Learning.
2. Progress in Deep Neural Networks.
3. Accessibility to historical data sets.

Sir also discussed How AI is influencing automotive industry further continued by explaining Robots are simultaneously working with human and learning automotive manufacturing skills (design, part manufacturing, and assembly) with the help of AI. Currently, AI helps humans to develop cars (Exhibits 3) using Exoskeletons; in the future, the entire plant can be operated by these AI-powered robots.

On 25-5-2020 Mr. Mehdi discussed the various methodologies such as supervised and unsupervised learning for building AI Models. In a supervised learning model, the algorithm learns on a labeled dataset, providing an answer key that the algorithm can use to evaluate its accuracy on training data. An unsupervised model, in contrast, provides unlabeled data that the algorithm tries to make sense of by extracting features and patterns on its own.

On 26-5-2020 Mr. Mehdi sir gave a hands-on Experience on Scikit libraries using Anaconda IDE

30 faculties of CSE and ISE were present.
