Report

The Department of Mathematics organized a Total Quality Management in Teaching Learning – An Orientation program on “Outcome based Education” for Faculty and Students.

Dr. Sudheer Shetty, Associate Professor and HoD of ISE, enlightened the staff and students regarding the topic. The talk summary is as follows:

OBE stands for OUTCOME-BASED EDUCATION. OBE is a student-centered teaching and learning style in which course delivery and assessment are organised to meet stated objectives and results. It focuses on assessing student performance at various levels, i.e. outcomes. Thus the OBE paradigm, unlike traditional teaching-learning methods, focuses on mapping, assessing, and attaining predetermined educational objectives.

The educational objectives are not only intellectual in nature, but can contain characteristics such as -

- Identifying and solving problems
- The ability to make complex learning approaches easier to understand
- Individual or team work
- Professionalism
- Ethics
- Ability to communicate.
- Continued education

Aspects of Outcome-Based Education

1. A course is described as a theory-based, hands-on learning experience.
2. Course outcomes are statements that summarise substantial and vital learning that students have acquired and can demonstrate reliably at the end of a course
3. The concentration or discipline of a degree is referred to as a programme. It is a system of interrelated courses, co-curricular activities, and extracurricular activities that leads to the awarding of a degree
4. Program outcomes are more specific statements that define what students should be able to perform by the end of the programme. Graduate Attributes are meant to be closely matched with POs.
5. The Program Educational Objectives of a programme are statements that characterise the expected achievements of graduates in their career, particularly during the first few years after graduation.

6. Programme Specific Outcomes describe what students should be able to perform by the time they graduate in relation to a particular discipline. A programme usually has two to four PSOs.
